Re: RM-11683, IB Docket No. 12-340, Reply Period

Dear Chairman Genachowski:

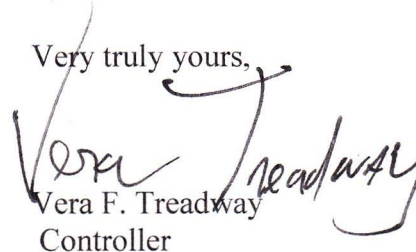

I serve as Controller for LockNet, a small, family owned company in Nicholasville, Kentucky. The company's main business is designing and manufacturing door locks and related items for fast food restaurants and other retail businesses. I wrote during the last comment period to note my support of LightSquared's application for a license modification. I now write during the reply period to suggest that there is overwhelming support for LightSquared's position, and that most industry groups appear to understand that only LightSquared's system can provide the universal access that our nation requires.

The businesses who will help LightSquared implement its network are the smaller carriers who will buy service wholesale from LightSquared and resell it to the public. The Competitive Carriers' Association represents many of these carriers. "CCA and its members thus have supported LightSquared's entry into the marketplace as a new wholesale provider (alongside others), and many CCA members had planned to partner with LightSquared to utilize its mobile wireless solutions," the group wrote.

"CCA recommends the Commission grant LightSquared's license modification applications, which would help to resolve complex spectrum management questions and also would enhance competition for the benefit of American consumers," they also wrote. I agree with the assessment of this industry group that America needs the benefit of LightSquared's network. As I did before, I again urge the FCC to approve LightSquared's application for a license modification.

Thank you for your consideration of my comments.

Very truly yours,

Vera F. Treadway
